

職場事奉課程簡介 Marketplace Ministry Course Description: (PT/BC) 2 credit elective (Zoom)

關於職場事奉，許多教會的領袖未能適當地教導，在講道中也很少提到基督徒跟工作這方面相關的議題。本課程將裝備教會領袖和信徒如何在教會以外的工作場所，以聖經為根基，藉著與復活的基督聯合來完成創造--文化使命。我們會研讀到基督徒生活的每一個層面都是用來服事神、服事人，以及管理世界。我們會研讀這些根基如何連結學術上的主題以及公開職場的實務性。在課堂上也會涵蓋其他主題，包括：職業性騷擾、倫理、道德的良善、商場的誘惑等等。外請講員將分享他們的親身經驗，如何應用基督徒的美德，在職場上做見證。 Unfortunately, many church leaders have failed to adequately teach and preach about the work-related concerns of Christians. This course will try to prepare both church leaders and Christians working outside the church with biblical foundations for fulfilling the creation-cultural mandate in union with the risen Lord Jesus Christ. We will study how all aspects of the Christian life are service to God, people, and creation-care. We will study how these foundations relate to academic subjects and to work in the public marketplace.

Note to Students: this is not a counseling course, though it is intended to equip pastors or counselors to minister to people in the marketplace. For those of you serving in the marketplace, it is to assure that you have a solid, fundamental understanding of why God created you and how you can use God-given non-pastoral gifts to advance Christ's Kingdom – as well as how you can help others in the marketplace The teacher has specific material that must be covered and understood as part of this course offering. But – since this is to equip YOU – the teacher is willing to add or to emphasize specific topics that may assist your particular service and these can be discussed as the class proceeds.

Student assessment criteria (all assignments to be emailed to kemcalpin@earthlink.net). Be SURE to enter the topic you are covering in the subject line and to make clear it is for CRTS:

1. (20 %). You will present the results of a high-level Bible study (5 page maximum) – due at the third meeting of the class. You will:
  - a. Identify/discuss two prominent people within the Pentateuch, one Prophet, one other Old Testament person and one prominent Christian leader in the New Testament. 5 people in total.
  - b. Address things such as: What kind of jobs (note - they should have had more than one and you should list every job you find) did each person have during their lifetime? What relationship did those jobs have to their main contributions to the Biblical narrative? What role did those jobs play in their personal growth (example: what kinds of things do you believe they learned from those jobs)? Were their most significant contributions to the larger Biblical story due primarily to their occupation or for some other reason or, in some cases, perhaps both? Explain your answers carefully from the Scripture.
  - c. Since you will be doing only one page per Biblical character, these will necessarily be at a high level. Your grade will be based on: your wise selection of people to discuss, your evidence of careful study, your clear explanation of your analysis and your discussion of this assignment with your fellow students – in class.
2. In addition to the above, Masters level students will take one person from the above study for a deeper study. You will provide a 5 minute in-class presentation during class session 3 that addresses the following:
  - a. Be advised, you must show very careful and Scriptural thought in providing these analyses.
  - b. What distinctions, if any, did your two people make between the secular and the sacred in their various jobs? Explain your answer, using Scripture. If the evidence seems unclear, explain why that is the case and what you can best conclude from other Scriptural evidence.

- c. Address areas such as the following – how did being a believer in the Living God, affect their attitude toward the performance of their work? How did it affect the way that they did their work? What kind of limitations did their being believers have on how they did their work, compared to their neighbors? What kind of advantages or insights did they have for their work, since they were believers? How was their work affected by the curse of the Fall? How did they work to overcome the affects of the curse?
  - d. Finally – what do you believe that Christian businesspeople, in your future congregations, should learn from your study?
  - e. Undergraduate students will not do this task but will be graded on class interaction with these presentations.
3. (30%). This will be a 5-page paper, which you will be prepared to discuss in class with your fellow students and to share with them. This will be due at the BEGINNING of class meeting number 5. Both the paper and the class discussion will be part of this grade. Students taking the class for Masters level credit will do a formal class presentation (10-15 minutes each) during class #5, undergraduate students will not do a class presentation but should be prepared to informally discuss their findings.
- a. Find a good example (may be someone personally known to you or you may simply find it through research) of how a Christian business person or company has positively impacted their communities by the way that they conduct their business.
  - b. Address things such as how their work benefits both believers and non-believers in their communities, the economic impacts of their work (both in their personal lives and in the lives of others in their communities), the social impacts (how it affects their local society), how their work helps them to engage their broader communities and what impact their business may have in helping to spread the Gospel.
  - c. Based on this study - provide and discuss at least one good example of an idea that now occurs to you, for the business people in your churches, as to how they might be able to use their business skills to have a specific impact in your home community. More examples are better. Explain these ideas in enough details to show how they could benefit your local community in ways discussed in paragraph “b”, above.
  - d. The teacher will model this assignment, to some degree, before your assignment is due – primarily to give you an example of a way to think about this.
4. Reading reflections (15%) Each student will write a 3-page reflection paper on each of the two books assigned for this course. These reflections will include the following: a summary of 5 main points that each author is trying to get across in their book; things brought out in the book that the student had never (or rarely) considered before this reading (what surprised or enlightened you most in this reading?); a summary description of how your view of the general area of faith/work is affected by this reading (this third aspect should be linked to the first two above).
5. (35%) Final Examination. This will test your grasp of anything covered in the lectures, reading and class assignments.

Lectures and Class Discussions (6 class meetings). Each meeting will be on Friday from 2:00-4:20; 5:40-8:00. October 7, 14, 21, 28, (Nov. 4 reading week, no class) Nov. 11 & 18 with class exercises, class discussions and breaks included. Given the late hour at the end of the week, students and teacher will work together to keep the class energized and interesting. To this end, class discussion is essential.

Readings: JRW Stott, The Message of the Sermon on the Mount. Tim Keller Counterfeit Gods. Students will write a 3-page reflection on each book, per the above. Extra points on other assignments and the final exam if you bring what you learned from these readings into those assignments.

Meeting 1 – A Biblical/Theological understanding of the reason for work, its theological significance, its importance in our lives and its eternal purpose. Discussion of the false dilemma of grace vs. work (this will be ongoing throughout the class). How the call to work reflects grace, even after the Fall, discussion of the impacts of the fall on work in the present age, the use of the means of grace at work in the present age. Begin discussion of how the church can help its businesspeople to be instruments of the gospel even in their business dealings. Discussion of the dualistic view of work/faith vs. a more Biblical view and the implications of both. Begin discussion of a New Testament focus on how people should view their work as part of their participation in Christ's Kingdom

Meeting 2 -. Conclude discussion of dualism vs. New Testament perspectives and ongoing discussion of the implications of faith at work. Discuss implications of man's creation on work ethics inside our companies – a different view of ethics based on a theological understanding the God's grace in giving man the privilege of joyful imitation/sharing of God's creative nature/being through meaningful and creative work. Begin the longer-term discussion of ethics outside of our companies (in the interaction of our companies with the broader world) for businesspeople in a fallen world. We will use Biblical examples of where the ethical responsibility may be different when relating to a fallen and sometimes hostile world and the challenge of assuring that self-interest does not allow us to blur lines where the Scripture does not clearly permit. Discussion of things like the Mockler Pledge as a means of assuring that pastors intentionally engage the businesspeople in their churches.

Meeting 3 – Each student will turn in assignment one and will be prepared to discuss it, in class. Each masters-level student will do presentations per assignment two above. Continue and conclude the basic ethics discussions. Student should be able to answer some fundamental questions: how does Christianity specifically inform our view of ethics? How should a good understanding of who we are in Christ and why we were created -inform our lives and practices in the business world? Do these principles work even for the non-believer and, if so, how could that be the case? Before meeting 3 Students will also be expected to watch a video, which is available in Chinese –explains debt creation and its impact on society. This must be watched/understood BEFORE Class Meeting 3 (students strongly urged to take notes as you watch the videos). <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j7qA7FZyiyE>

Meeting 4- Teacher will present a high-level example of class assignment #3 – so that students can have an idea of what is expected for their assignment by meeting 5. Begin discussion of basic economic principles for non-businesspeople, placed in a Biblical context. This is a very high-level summation to help Christian leaders understand what their businesspeople are facing in today's world and how these things may be affecting the world to which we minister. What does the Bible say about property rights, the value of ownership? How are those things reflected in the character and nature of God? How does this view affect how people are motivated, how they learn/grow by engaging God's world (after the Fall) and how does it affect both Christian and non-Christian economic blessing or cursing? What is our obligation to the poor and what are the best ways to help them?

Meeting 5. Continue the above. How is the rule of law related to God's blessings and why is rule of law effective and essential even in non-Christian cultures? What if the laws of our countries are immoral or unbiblical? How do we bring the whole of Scripture to understand this issue? Money – how would you define it (hint: not as easy as you think)? What is its role in the life of faith and why is it such a force in our fallen world? What can we conclude about Jesus' view of money? How should every Christian view money and is there a proper role for money in our lives? Discussion of the problem of debt from a Biblical/practical perspective. God sometimes promises certain financial blessings in the Scripture – how is this different than the so-called Prosperity Gospel being taught as a heresy in some parts of the church, today? How can we correctly encourage our people to be faithful with money – and to trust God in this area of their lives - without leading them to the false teachings of the Prosperity Gospel?

Throughout these class meetings we will have an over-arching discussion of the current way that capitalism and trade are working today (hint: there is very little free trade and massive world-wide governmental interference in markets). Brief discussion of the context of the serious geo-political and economic challenges that businesspeople are facing today. Always in the context of Christ's word and Kingdom.

Meeting 6 – Formal presentations of assignment 3 from Masters-level students with informal discussions of their presentations, by the undergraduate students. Our overall schedule is tight given the amount of material we must cover in this course, and we may very well find that we are unable cover all materials on the above schedule. So, the teacher has allowed room in meeting 6 to wrap up whatever we were unable to cover as completely as needed in prior class meetings. Meeting 6 also presents opportunities to either re-emphasize or go deeper into specific areas of interest to the students. Book reflections due today and will be discussed in class with some observations from the teacher. Course conclusion and wrap up. Discussion of Final Examination.
