Letter to CRTS Supporters

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ :

By the grace of God, CRTS has purchased a Dormitory! When I began working here in 1996, the students were already praying for a real campus. But back then the idea of having a library building and a dorm was a distant dream. However, in 2021 the Board established a weekly campus expansion prayer meeting, and in 2026 we now have both a library building and a dormitory! God is good.

「 Residential Education 」

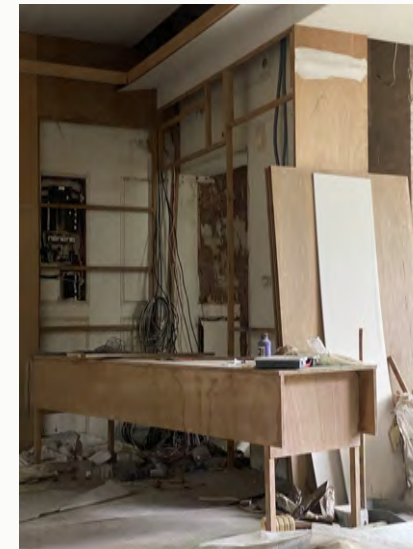

- Living together
- Sharing together
- Formed together
- Growing together

The best form of seminary education is residential education. But Taipei apartments are too expensive for students to rent. Therefore, in May 2025, the Board formed a dormitory committee. First, we rented a two-floor apartment near the school with space for two married couples and three rooms for 3 single students. But even dividing the rent between them, the cost is still too expensive for most students.

Provision Beyond Imagination

「biao dao」 (Got the Offer)

Then, after a few months of searching, in December 2025 we came across an advertisement for a four-floor mansion near Dong Hu (8 kilometers from our campus). It was advertised for NT\$160,000 per ping (1 ping $\approx$ 3.3 square meters). It has been unoccupied for four years and needs to be remodeled. But still, it is an unbelievable price since apartments near us are over NT\$800,000 per ping for older buildings, and the price for an apartment in our 40-year-old classroom building is more than NT\$1,000,000 per ping . We bought the building at a court auction. Our Board approved a bid of NT\$18.25 million. On the morning of the bid, Lu Jian Li called me in Malaysia. She only said two words: “biao dao”. God is good!

Living together

Faculty, students, and families live together for several years: going to school together, returning home together, and facing daily life together. Through marriage, family life, ministry, and relationships, they gain a real understanding of what the life of a pastor truly looks like.

Formed together

Not only being equipped with knowledge, but also learning to live out the truth. Through sermon discussions, internship reflection, individual mentoring, and mutual care, doctrine is brought into daily life, and lives are built up together.

Sharing together

Sharing meals together, studying the Bible, and praying for one another; through monthly fellowships, prayer meetings, and daily gatherings, faith is not confined to the classroom but becomes the rhythm of shared life.

Growing together.

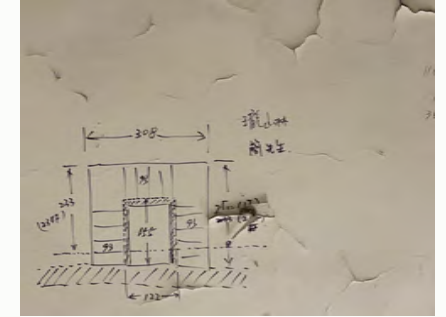

Building a community marked by mutual acceptance, compassion, and love, with children growing up together, families supporting one another, students learn to pursue unity and peace even amid conflicts and difficulties.

United Giving, Responding to the Call

So, I must ask everyone to consider donating. We are still moved by your overwhelming generosity in contributing towards our library building, and for this reason we hesitated to purchase a dorm. But we also believe that you will understand our need and rejoice with us in God's provision. I hope one day that Priscilla and I will live in the building and it will become a training center for M.Div. students and potential future teachers.

We have a lot of other news. Our search committee has selected three young men to enter our faculty training program. We also have a promising application for a faculty position. We are planning to greatly expand our Malaysia ministry. We now have 220 students, including a growing Th.M. program.

Lu Jian Li has retired from the head administrator position, and she has been replaced by an administrative team with Irene Ling as the chair. My retirement is on the horizon, and several other teachers are also getting older. Please remember to pray for our school. Almost the only certain things in life are that the future is in our Lord's hands and that He answers prayer.

Yours in Christ,

Oscar S. McAfferty
